

Topic: Rare Diseases (focus on national strategy at a higher-level strategic policy)

Jennifer is Director of the Governance and Bilateral Agreements team with the Drugs for Rare Diseases Secretariat at Health Canada. This team is responsible for the negotiation and implementation of bilateral agreements in support of the National Strategy for Drugs for Rare Diseases with all 13 provinces and territories, along with support to key governance bodies including the Drugs for Rare Diseases Implementation Advisory Group and the Pharmaceutical Executive Group.

In the course of more than 20 years with the government of Canada, Jennifer has lead policy and regulatory development initiatives across a number of departments, including Health Canada, Transport Canada and Treasury Board Secretariat. Jennifer has extensive experience as a federal regulator, spending more than a decade developing and implementing regulatory instruments for Transport Canada.

Jennifer is a member of the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society. In her free time she enjoys cooking, reading, and spending time with her family and pets.
